

As an amateur radio operator for the past 45 years, I believe that this BPL technology if implemented will destroy my use of the amateur radio high frequency bands. If HF radio is destroyed, there will be no need to continue amateur radio in the US. This will also destroy need for amateur radio in the rest of the world. What the US does will become standard around the world.

BPL is not needed and will eliminate amateur radio.

Patrick Wintheiser